COVID SANITARY STANDARDS TO ACCESS THE TERRITORY OF CÔTE D'IVOIRE

INTRODUCTION

Textile fibers of vegetal, animal, or artificial origin have always been used as raw materials for the production of clothing throughout the world.

Cotton fiber is a strategic product for several Member States of the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC). It represents more than 20% of the export earnings of some States and employs more than 30% of the working population. As such, the Cotton-Textile sector occupies a prominent place in the economic and social development of our States.

However, the issues of cotton subsidies provided by some countries are likely to lower the price of the fiber on the international market and drastically reduce the revenues related to these exports.

The world cotton trade volume amounts to 114.5 billion USD in 2021 against 106.2 billion USD in 2017, i.e. an increase by 7.8% due to the fluctuation of its prices on the world market. The OIC Member States have totaled a cotton trade volume of about 32.6 billion USD in 2021 against 26.6 billion USD in 2017, i.e. an increase by 22.6% during this period. More than a quarter of the world cotton trade comes from OIC countries between 2017 and 2021, particularly from African countries and Central Asia.

On the other hand, intra-OIC cotton trade reached 9.8 billion USD in 2021 against 7.3 billion USD in 2017, i.e. an increase by 33.5% during the last four years thanks to the increase in trade of African and Asian countries. Between 2017 and 2021, the share of intra-OIC cotton trade is around 30%.

In fact, the main exporters of cotton in 2021 to the OIC Area are: Pakistan, Uzbekistan, Turkey, Benin, Turkmenistan, Azerbaijan, Côte d'Ivoire, Egypt, Tajikistan and Indonesia, which have totaled more than 87% of the world exports of Member States, i.e. a value of 4.4 billion USD. As for the importers of the OIC countries, we can mention: Turkey, Bangladesh, Pakistan, Tunisia, Iran, Morocco, Egypt, Indonesia, United Arab Emirates and Malaysia for the need of their textile industries and manufactures. This top-ten recorded a value of 4.6 billion USD in 2021 or 97% of the world imports of the OIC Member States.

The main products traded are cotton at 67% and processed textile products at 33% in 2021.

Considering the low level of cotton processing in OIC countries, the organization of this Trade Fair and Forum on the sector will help boost intra-OIC trade.

In this context, the transformation of cotton fiber and its derivatives through the creation of sustainable value-added activities in the cotton-textile-clothing value chain is becoming a major issue at the heart of the economic and social development of our countries.

The promotion of income-generating activities for women and youth should be placed at the center of this issue in order to have a sustainable impact on the inclusive development of our economies.

In this regard, the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade (ICDT) and the Ministry of Trade and Industry of the Republic of Côte d'Ivoire are organizing the 2nd Edition of the Cotton, Textile and Clothing Exhibition of the OIC Member States and the 1st Edition of the Abidjan International Cotton-Textile-Clothing Exhibition (SICTHA) from 19th to 23rd October 2022 in Abidjan, Republic of Côte d'Ivoire.

This exhibition will increase trade and investment flows among the OIC Member States, notably through the promotion of trade and investments in the Cotton, Textile, and Clothing sectors, in order to establish a sustainable development of trade and improve the welfare of the populations.
